PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The program promises to be outstanding. The speakers are all members of the Society and are men of national reputation. Their cooperation in the preparation of this program made the arrangements a simple matter. Your President expresses his appreciation to them as well as that of the SAC.

In order to make the meeting effective, attendance by members is essential. The business portion of the meeting will consist primarily of the election of officers. It is suggested that the President and Secretary-Treasurer (who at present is also Editor of the Bulletin) be selected from the same institution or community. The membership might consider the possibility of separating the task of Bulletin Editor from the office of Secretary-Treasurer. Getting out a bulletin is no small task and requires time and effort.

It will be a pleasure to see you all at the annual meeting.

William Dienstein
President

DINNER AT MEETING

There is enclosed a self-addressed postcard which will indicate whether or not you will be present at the dinner at the annual meeting. Prompt action in mailing this card will facilitate arrangements for reservations. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

"Recognition and Handling of Abnormal People"

"There has recently come to my attention an excellent pamphlet entitled "How to Recognize and Handle Abnormal People - A Manual for the Police Officer", by Matthews & Rowland, published by the Louisiana Association for Mental Health, 816 Hibernia Building, New Orleans 12, Louisiana.

I believe a small number of copies can be obtained directly from this organization. I think you would find it interesting and valuable.

Sincerely,

/S/ Robert H. Scott
Assistant Director
In Charge of Youth Division
Department of Corrections
Michigan State Department of Corrections"

Thank you, Mr. Scott!
