THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CRIMINOLOGY

The American Society of Criminology embodies the following objectives:

1. To bring together in one multidisciplinary society persons actively engaged in research, teaching, and/or practice in the field of criminology.
2. To foster criminological scholarship, research, education, and training within academic institutions and within the divisions of the criminal justice system, including public and private agencies concerned with crime, justice, and corrections.
3. To encourage scholarly, scientific, and practical exchange and cooperation among those engaged in criminology.
4. To serve as a forum for the dissemination of criminological knowledge.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CRIMINOLOGY

Dear Colleagues:

Welcome to the 32nd Annual Meeting of The American Society of Criminology. With the theme of "Myths and Realities Guiding New Criminal Justice Trends," the Program Committee has endeavored to provide for you a stimulating and provocative meeting.

There are over 130 panels, colloquia, and workshops scheduled, with over 600 persons participating in what we believe to be the largest program ever sponsored by the Society. Additionally, a Professional Employment Exchange, a publishers' exhibit, and several special events have been planned. At the Banquet the ASC award winners will present significant comments related to this year's theme.

Persons wishing to purchase copies of papers presented at the Annual Meeting may do so at the Registration Desk.

Noon and evening periods, other than the Banquet, have deliberately been left open so that we might all enjoy the special treats of San Francisco!

DIRECTORY OF EXHIBITS

This exhibit presents many publications related to criminology and criminal justice, including numerous titles authored by members of The American Society of Criminology. We have attempted to select materials and arrange displays to bring the latest and the most pertinent publications to the attention of members of the Society.

The exhibit is located in the Comstock Room on the second floor. Orders for publications may be placed at the exhibit. Many publishers offer Annual Meeting discounts.

The exhibit will be open on Wednesday from Noon to 6:00 p.m., on Thursday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and on Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The directory of exhibitors cited below is a partial listing, reflecting only those reservations received in advance of the printing of this final program. Exhibitors marked with an asterisk (*) have reserved individual spaces and generally have representatives present to respond to your inquiries.

A complete introduction to the study of crime and criminal behavior

Criminal Behavior Readings in Criminology

edited by DELOS H. KELLY,
California State University, Los Angeles

This collection of forty-three current and classic selections surveys the field of criminology from the creation and evolution of criminal law to attempts and proposals for reform of crime and the criminal. The book examines crime statistics, social correlates of crime, and major criminological theories. A full array of specific crimes are described and analyzed, followed by an examination of the responses of police, courts, and prisons. In taking a holistic approach — both theoretical and practical — the collection emphasizes the interconnected factors in the study of crime.

Among its many outstanding features Criminal Behavior includes:

- Outstanding selections drawn from the major sociological and social psychological theories that have been advanced to explain criminal motivation.
- Recent articles on government, corporate, organized, and business crime.
- Studies of how power and resources affect the definition and treatment of crime and the criminal.
- Analysis of how actors become socialized into criminal values and traditions.
- Material on female crime, delinquency, and child abuse.
- Consideration of some of the presumed correlates of crime.
- Examination of the impact of involvement in criminal activities upon the actors and others.
- Discussion of the ways behavior and labels interact.
- Description of how crime statistics are produced.
- Both proven and proposed strategies that can be used to change the image of crime and the criminal.

Investigate dynamic new titles in Criminology... from Elsevier North Holland

Coming in January 1981 . . . a classic in the field!

Techniques of Crime Scene Investigation Third Edition

Arne Svensson, formerly Chief Superintendent, Director of Laboratory, Criminal Investigation Department, Stockholm, Sweden; Otto Wendel, formerly Superintendent, Criminal Investigation Department, Stockholm, Sweden; and Barry A.J. Fisher, Chief Criminologist, Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, Criminalistics Laboratory.

Completely revised and updated, the third edition of this classic working textbook includes all significant advances made in the past decade. Expanded coverage features the latest in forensic science, new technologies in gunshot residue testing, a new chapter on narcotics evidence and illicit narcotic laboratories, arson, sexual assault, and more. Svensson, Wendel and Fisher's new edition offers a compendium of information on crime scene investigation and physical evidence that's sure to become a constant companion for students throughout their professional careers.

NEW! Prison Victimization

Lee H. Bowker, Center for Advanced Studies in Human Services, University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

" . . . a convincing portrait of the extent and nature of victimization in prisons. His analysis is provocative, his suggestions for change challenging . . . a ringing indictment of the inhumanity which seems a necessary part of prison."

—James F. Short, Jr., Washington State University

The overwhelming turmoil in our prisons today—as evidenced by physical violence and psychological, economic and social victimization—is explored in this comprehensive new book. Causes and effects of victimization are closely examined in a readable way for students and professionals concerned with criminology, corrections and prisons.

NEW! Prison Sexual Violence

Daniel Lockwood, Temple University

" . . . a landmark contribution . . . Lockwood provides a unique blend of deep concern for suffering with respect for appropriate level of documentation and evidence . . ."

—Hans Toch, State University of New York at Albany

Here is the first systematic inquiry into the turbulent subject of male sex aggression in prison. Explosive and vital, it presents first-hand accounts of males who have experienced sexual and violent aggression in prison.

1980 181 pages $12.95, cloth 0-444-99067-4

Guards Imprisoned Correctional Officers at Work

Lucien Xavier Lombardo, Old Dominion University

The topic of prison guards—a long neglected area in criminology—is comprehensively explored in this major investigation. The motivations and experiences of the men and women who work as prison guards are fully analyzed. Based extensively on 6 years of the author's "participant observation," this highly readable book questions previous assumptions about guard behavior and motivation.

PIGS AND OTHER ANIMALS BY ROGER MARTIN

"I hope every sheriff, warden, legislator, judge and student reads it. I will require Pigs and Other Animals in all my Classes. . . ."

Dr. G. Thomas Gitchoff
Professor, San Diego State University

"Pigs and Other Animals reveals the subtle erosion of individual rights . . . it is a story the public must understand."

Milton Rector, President
National Council on Crime & Delinquency

"Roger Martin's descent into the hell of prison — as guardian of the beasts — is a remarkable testimony of the power of evil situations to overwhelm the sanity, compassion and morality of the best of us."

Philip G. Zimbardo, Ph.D.
Professor of Psychology, Stanford University
