The American Society of Criminology embodies the following objectives:

- 1. To bring together, in one multidisciplinary society, persons actively engaged in research teaching, and/or practice in the field of criminology.
- 2. To foster criminological scholarship, research, education, and training within academic institutions and within the divisions of the criminal justice system, including public and private agencies concerned with crime, justice, and corrections.
- 3. To encourage scholarly, scientific, and practical exchange and cooperation among those engaged in criminology.
- 4. To serve as a forum for the dissemination of criminological knowledge.

WELCOME TO THE 2016 ASC ANNUAL MEETING

Ruth D. Peterson (ASC President, Ohio State University)
Lauren J. Krivo (Program Co-Chair, Rutgers University-New Brunswick)
Katheryn Russell-Brown (Program Co-Chair, University of Florida)

GREETINGS 2016 ASC MEETING ATTENDEES!!! Twenty-four years ago on November 4-7, 1992, the American Society of Criminology (ASC) held its Annual Meeting at the Fairmont Hotel in New Orleans, Louisiana, NOLA for short. Alfred Blumstein was President of the Society and Timothy Flanagan was the Program Chair. The theme of the meeting was "Relevance and Rationality." The program had 383 sessions, and boasted approximately 1,600 attendees. The 1992 meeting set the stage for some later ASC innovations. For example, it was at the NOLA meeting that the idea was generated to establish an annual dance, with proceeds going to support a fellowship for racial-ethnic minority graduate students. At the very next meeting (Phoenix), we held the first such dance which featured two ASC-formed bands: Ron Akers and his Bluegrass Band, and the Hot Spots, led by Larry Sherman.

It is our privilege to welcome you back to New Orleans for the 72nd Annual Meeting of the ASC, this time at the New Orleans Riverside Hilton. The ASC conference has evolved since the previous New Orleans meeting. This year's meeting has almost three times the number of sessions as the 1992 meeting (over 1,000), and more than twice the attendees (over 4,000). The earlier meeting included the intellectual activities of just 3 Divisions compared to 10 currently. (Be sure to look inside the Program for the activities of ASC Divisions, including their meetings, sessions, special sessions, and celebratory activities.) We continue to hold a dance to raise money for fellowships for underrepresented graduate students, but this year's dance departs from a long-term tradition by featuring the local NOLA band, Kermit Ruffins and the Barbecue Swingers. We now offer more services during the annual meeting. An innovation this year is onsite childcare. Members championed long and hard for this service, and we are glad to inaugurate it here in NOLA.

Along with ASC's program, the city of New Orleans has also undergone important changes since 1992. Notably, NOLA has experienced and is continuing to rebound from the devastation caused by Hurricane Katrina. In some ways, the city feels new and different compared to the one we visited earlier. Yet, it retains the character that makes it a unique and interesting place to visit and hold our meeting. Between ASC events, we hope that you find time to explore the old and new NOLA. To make the task easier, our wonderful local arrangements committee has offered a number of suggestions. Please browse these online or pick up a printed copy at the registration desk.

SESSIONS ON THE 2016 ASC PROGRAM THEME: The theme of this year's program is "The Many Colors of Crime and Justice." Thus, we hope to: (1) showcase the diversity of scholars and types of scholarly perspectives and approaches that contribute to our understanding of crime and criminal justice around the world; and (2) reveal important substantive findings and conclusions that flow from such diversity. As we reflect on this theme, the daily headlines and reports on crime and criminal justice in the United States, and knowledge about the fundamental but differential role that race and ethnicity have played historically in crime and justice in the U.S. and elsewhere, it seems fitting that New Orleans is the setting of this year's ASC meeting. We hope that you agree, and will join us for the variety of plenaries that speak to the "many colors" issue. This theme is also evident in other types of sessions on the 2016 program, e.g., regular panels, special and thematic sessions, author-meets-critics sessions, roundtables, and poster sessions. We invite you to browse the program to choose among the many opportunities to explore issues related to race-ethnicity, crime and justice. Here, in the interest of brevity, we draw your attention to the Presidential Plenaries that put this theme front and center.

Wednesday's opening plenary (November 16, 3:30pm) features representatives of local justice organizations, who will speak on the evolving context of justice in NOLA, including as it pertains to race and ethnicity. On Thursday (November 17), we turn our attention to the national and international picture with two plenaries. The first (11:00am) features presentations by Piper Kerman and Layda Negrete focusing on reforming justice in the United States and Mexico. Later (3:30pm), we explore the relationship of criminal justice to civil rights through a discussion that includes Thomas Saenz of the Mexican American Legal Defense and Educational Fund (MALDEF). Academic scholarship on race-ethnicity, crime and justice is the Plenary fare on Friday (November 18). At 11:00am, Sarah Deer (Mitchell Hamline School of Law, and member of the Creek Nation) is the featured speaker for a session on violence against Native women. Lisa Monchalin, an Indigenous scholar in Canada, will moderate this session, including offering comments about her own work related to this topic. Our second Friday plenary (2:00pm) assesses the state of knowledge on issues of race-ethnicity, crime and justice at the neighborhood level. It features noted scholars Robert Sampson and William Julius Wilson, joined by rising scholar María Vélez in a dialogue about race-neutral versus race-targeted crime and justice reforms.

Following her Presidential Address on Friday (November 18, 5:00pm), Ruth will pass the gavel to incoming President James Lynch. However, in anticipation and celebration of the upcoming 2017 Philadelphia meeting on "Crime, Legitimacy and Reform: Fifty Years after the President's Commission," she and Jim will co-host a Saturday morning (November 19, 9:30am) plenary (another first for ASC) entitled, "The 1966 President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice, Contributions and Unfinished Business." Jim and Ruth view this session as bridging the themes of the 2016 and 2017 meetings. Among others, this plenary will feature former ASC President Albert Blumstein, who presided over our earlier NOLA meeting. His 1992 program featured sessions assessing the state of U.S. justice 25 years after the President's Commission; it is fitting that we revisit this issue in the year of the Commission's 50th Anniversary.

All of the above plenaries will take place in the Versailles Room at the Riverside Hilton. Their formats vary from formal presentations followed by questions and comments, to informal dialogues among panelists and between panelists and the audience. Regardless of format, the sessions promise to provide great food for our intellectual appetites, especially as these pertain to race, ethnicity, crime and justice.

CELEBRATORY EVENTS OF THE 2016 MEETING!!! Ruth will offer a welcome for each of the substantive plenaries, and she has the privilege of hosting a number of our celebratory events: the ASC Awards Plenary, featuring the Edwin A. Sutherland Address (Wednesday, November 16, 6:30pm); the aforementioned Presidential Plenary (Friday, November 18, 5:00pm) which features the presentation of the President's Distinguished Award for Contributions to Justice and Ruth's address; and both the President's Reception (6:00pm) and the Ruth D. Peterson Fellowship for Racial and Ethnic Diversity dance (9:00pm) on Friday evening. Friday is also the evening for receptions hosted by schools and organizations. These events all provide a time to eat, drink, and bask in the good company of old and new colleagues.

GOOD WILL FOR THE HOST CITY: This year, we are seeking your cooperation in providing a gesture of good will for NOLA, our host city, and Baton Rouge, a city that suffered devastation from a recent flood. Specifically, our request is that meeting attendees (1) make contributions ($5 suggested) so that we can provide cash donations to four local justice-serving organizations (Louisiana Justice Institute; Voice of the Ex-Offender; Women With a Vision, and Together Baton Rouge) and/or (2) donate a book (through Amazon.com) to help build a library for Smothers Academy, a new local school for boys in grades K-12. The program and local arrangements committees collaborated in identifying these local institutions for our good will gesture. Please help us show our appreciation to post-Katrina NOLA

(and Baton Rouge) by contributing in one or both of these ways.

SOME NOTES OF THANKS. As President, Ruth offers her heartfelt gratitude to Katheryn and Laurie for their hard work and tenacity in producing the program. The outcome is the amazing agenda laid out in the document that you now hold in your hand or examine online. Laurie and Katheryn join Ruth in thanking the 90 members of the 2016 Program Committee for sharing their ideas and for doing the hands-on work necessary to complete the program. Brooklynn Hitchens gets special accolades for handling a myriad of logistical tasks. We are also grateful to the Local Arrangements Committee Co-Chairs (Marianne Fisher-Giorlando and Andrea Leverentz) and Committee members (Hollie Brehm, Xiaojin Chen, Kelly Frailing, and Volkan Topalli) for their enthusiastic efforts. They came up with great ideas and put together valuable resources that conferees can use in exploring NOLA. Thanks also to Sarah Becker from Baton Rouge for lending a hand on short notice. We also appreciate the work of Chris Eskridge (who facilitates everyone's efforts) and ASC Staff members Susan Case (who has both organizing and logistical roles in developing the program), Nicole Coldiron (who helps get plenary speakers in), and Kelly Vanhorn (who helps get the word out about the program) in assisting us in bringing the 2016 ASC Meeting to fruition.

Most importantly, we are grateful to all of you for attending the 2016 ASC Annual Meeting and for doing your part to make it a successful and memorable conference. We hope that in return your intellectual appetites are fulfilled and your senses are stimulated through taking advantage of the activities of the program and the offerings of NOLA.

A SPECIAL THANK YOU

The American Society of Criminology wishes to extend a special thanks to the many publishers and government agencies that have once again chosen to exhibit their materials and sponsor numerous food events.

We greatly value your participation and note that your presence has become an integral aspect of our annual meeting experience. We thank you again, not just for your business, but your support of the field of criminology.

STRENGTH in our Justice Expertise

We are proud of our nationally recognized, award-winning justice faculty. Their work offers broad perspective to address some of the most pressing justice issues of the day, including criminal justice, criminology, victimization, terrorism, law and society, race and justice, and security.

BOISE STATE UNIVERSITY

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC SERVICE

Department of Criminal Justice

Master of Arts - Criminal Justice

The master's degree in Criminal Justice is designed to provide a foundation in research and theory in substantive areas of criminal justice activity and focused scholarship on issues of importance to the field.

Our faculty is very productive in terms of teaching, publishing, and service to the community. This translates into graduate courses that are cutting-edge and relevant, as well as opportunities for both faculty-student research collaborations and student engagement in community discipline-related service. A recent internal review determined that our program has a 100% placement rate for students applying to Ph.D. programs.

The Department of Criminal Justice at Boise State University was named one of the top 10 M.A.-granting universities in terms of total grant dollars obtained by our faculty (Mustaine & Tewksbury, 2009).

Application deadlines:

For Spring admission: October 1st For Fall admission: April 1st (Priority - February 15th)

Eastern Kentucky University Master's Degree in Criminology and Criminal Justice

WHY EKU?

- Over 20 funded Research Assistant positions for Master's level students.
- Study with leading scholars and authors in Criminology, Criminal Justice, and Social Justice
- ♦ Funded travel for students to professional conferences
- ♦ Funded travel for international experience and study
- ♦ Low student to faculty ratio
- ♦ An engaged Graduate Student Association

I was a Criminal Justice graduate student in the College of Justice and Safety from 2014-2016. During my time in this program, I gained not only valuable theoretical knowledge, but also developed a passion for social justice. After graduating in 2016, I joined the Peace Corps where I am currently serving as an English Education Volunteer in Moldova.

-- Morgan Stone, 2016 Graduate, English Education Volunteer in Moldova

Preparing students for both academic and applied careers, the professors challenge you to question and explore the concepts of crime and justice. Receiving a Master's Degree in Criminal Justice from EKU has allowed me to pursue a career in the field of public advocacy, helping to exonerate individuals that have been wrongly convicted in the state of Kentucky.

-Emily Swintosky, 2010 Graduate, Special Investigator, KY Innocence Project

Learning and developing at EKU's CRJ program is sincerely an opportunity – an opportunity not to be missed. I've received an amazing education that has opened doors for me that I could have never imagined.

Faculty Highlights

Jody Sundt
Associate Dean of Graduate and Executive Education
Ph.D. University of Cincinnati

Jody's article "Is Downsizing Prisons Dangerous? The Effect of California's Realignment Act on Public Safety" was published in Criminology & Public Policy. The authors tested the effect of California's Realignment Act, which aimed to reduce prison overcrowding. The findings indicate that the right policies can help significantly reduce prison populations without endangering public safety.

Bradley Ray Assistant Professor Ph.D. North Carolina State University

Brad received a $400,000 grant from Indiana's Division of Mental Health and Addiction to examine the implementation and effectiveness of Recovery Works, a statewide program that offers mental health and substance abuse services in the community for those who may otherwise face incarceration.

"From its first gripping anecdote to its concluding reflections about inequality, College in Prison is a compelling, deeply moving, and urgently important book.

Martha Nussbaum, Ernst Freund Distinguished Service Professor of Law & Ethics, University of Chicago

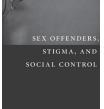

"Drawing on more than a decade of work with the Bard Prison Initiative, Daniel Karpowitz gives us a thoughtful and timely perspective on mass incarceration in America, and the promise of a liberal arts education for those behind bars. College in Prison should be required reading for academics and policymakers alike."

IPES brings together leading police researchers and practitioners to facilitate cross-cultural, international, and interdisciplinary exchanges for the enrichment of the policing profession. It encourages dynamic discussions and writing on challenging topics of contemporary importance through an array of initiatives, including conferences and publications. The International Police Executive Symposium (IPES) was awarded special consultative status with the United Nations in 2011. For more information, please visit http://www.ipes.info/.

Advances in Police Theory and Practice Series

Presenting volumes that focus on the nexus between research and practice, this SERIES is geared toward those practitioners and academics seeking to implement the latest innovations in policing from across the world. This series draws from an international community of experts who examine who the police are, what they do, and how they maintain order, administer laws, and serve their communities.

IPES CRC Press Co-Publication Series

This SERIES focuses on books based on the carefully selected papers presented at the meetings of IPES and papers submitted to Police Practice and Research: An International Journal (PPR) but considered more suitable as book chapters.

Interviews with Global Leaders in Policing, Courts and Prisons Series

The focus of this SERIES is to obtain a better understanding of global challenges that criminal justice leaders face and of the successes that they achieve while functioning in an increasingly interconnected and democratized world. The books in the SERIES are entitled, Trends in Policing, Trends in the Judiciary, Trends in Legal Advocacy and Trends in Corrections.

About Trends in Policing, Robert Reiner, Professor Emeritus, London School of Economics, says:

"A resource of immense value to academic analysts of policing philosophies, leadership, contemporary change, and likely futures, as well as to policy-makers and practitioners who wish to have a sense of where the leaders in their field have come from and are going."

Police Practice & Research an International Journal (PPR) Is affiliated with the International Police Executive Symposium (IPES) www.ipes.info. PPR is a peer-reviewed, international journal that presents current and innovative academic police research as well as operational and administrative police practices from around the world. Manuscripts are sought from practitioners, researchers and others interested in developments in policing, analysis of public order, and the state of safety as it affects the quality of life everywhere.

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPTS

Manuscripts should be submitted online to the Taylor and Francis website at: http://mcmanuscriptcentral.com/gppr.
For assistance, please contact associatemanagingeditor@ipes.info. Manuscripts should normally be no more than 40 typed pages (Word, Times New Roman, 12 Font, Double Spaced) in English. Manuscripts should be accompanied by an abstract of no more than 150 words, up to six key words, and a brief biographical Sketch.

Dr. Dilip K. Das, Professor; President, International Police Executive Symposium and, Editor-in-Chief, Police Practice and Research: An International Journal, dilipdas@ipes.info
