

The College of Criminology and Criminal Justice at Florida State University is a vibrant academic community which fosters an environment of collaborative research and intellectual stimulation among its faculty and students. The College invites applications for tenure-track and tenure-earning assistant, associate, and full professor positions to begin Fall 2024. The areas of specialization are open. Applicants must have demonstrated effectiveness in research and teaching; successful track records of externally funded research will be prioritized. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Criminology and Criminal Justice or a related field (such as sociology, psychology, or public policy). ABD candidates who anticipate degree completion no later than August 2024 will also be considered. A Juris Doctorate alone is not sufficient for consideration. Women and minority candidates are strongly encouraged to apply. Review of applications will begin on January 29, 2024, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Interested persons should submit a letter of application, statements on research and teaching, a curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation to Dana Behnke at dbehnke@fsu.edu. Additionally, candidates must apply for the position through FSU's employment site <http://jobs.fsu.edu/>. Any questions regarding the position and application may be directed to Dana Behnke at dbehnke@fsu.edu.
