

Lecturer Position - Purdue Sociology

Date Available - August 2025

Job Summary

The Department of Sociology at Purdue University invites applications for a lecturer position beginning August 18, 2025. We are seeking qualified candidates with the ability to contribute to the strategic vision of the undergraduate curriculum in criminology and law and society, and others that align with the university's missions. Lectureships are non-tenure track teaching positions with renewable three-year contracts, competitive salaries, and medical and retirement benefits.

Qualifications

- PhD in sociology or related field preferred, ABD will be considered.
- Ability to teach courses in our Digital Criminology and Law & Society curriculum

Application Procedures

To apply, please visit careers.purdue.edu. Applicants must include 1) a letter of application addressed to Dr. Linda Renzulli, Search Chair 2) a curriculum vitae 3) copies of syllabi of courses taught 4) a summary of student evaluations (quantitative and qualitative comments) if available 5) a statement of teaching philosophy and 6) three letters of reference.

Screening of applicants will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. A background check will be required for employment in this position. For additional information, contact the Search Chair, Dr. Linda Renzulli, lrenzull@purdue.edu.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA Employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans, are encouraged to apply.