

SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY
CRIMINOLOGY AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE

9-Month, NTT Faculty
Criminology and Criminal Justice Program

Saint Louis University, a Catholic, Jesuit institution dedicated to student learning, research, health care, and service, is seeking applicants for a 9-month, Non-tenure Track faculty position at the assistant professor rank to begin Fall 2027. This position will join the Criminology and Criminal Justice Program, which is part of the School of Social Work.

Applicants for this position must possess at least a MA, but preferably a PhD, in Criminology & Criminal Justice, or a closely related field. A law degree/J.D. alone is not sufficient for this position. Our faculty are dedicated teachers, and we are looking for a colleague with a passion for teaching who can contribute to our graduate and/or undergraduate teaching needs. The successful candidate will teach core classes consistent with the needs of the program and will be expected to develop classes in their area of expertise/preference. The ability to develop classes in cybersecurity, international criminology or victimology is desirable but not required as is prior university teaching experience and/or work experience related to the criminal justice system.

SLU offers competitive salary, start-up packages and benefits. Applications must include curriculum vitae, cover letter, and the names and contact information for three professional references. All applications must be submitted online at <https://slu.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/Careers>

All other correspondence should be addressed to Dyan McGuire, Ph.D., JD, Chair, CCJ Faculty Search Committee (dyan.mcguire@slu.edu). Formal review of applications will begin on August 15 and will continue until the position is filled.

Saint Louis University is an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity Employer and encourages nominations of and applications from women and minorities.
