WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY The Department of Criminology & Criminal Justice at Wayne State University invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure-track, academic-year (9-month) Assistant Professor of Teaching to begin in Fall 2025.

Applicants are expected to hold a Ph.D. in Criminal Justice/Criminology or related field. A J.D. alone is not a sufficient qualification for this position. The ideal candidate would be expected to teach a variety of traditional and online courses. The successful candidate will be responsible for teaching 4 classes in each of the fall and winter semesters with the possibility of additional teaching opportunities during summers. In addition to teaching, the successful candidate will contribute to departmental-level service needs.

The Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice offers B.S. and M.S. degrees to approximately 450 undergraduate and 40 graduate students. More information about the Department of Criminology & Criminal Justice can be found here: <https://clas.wayne.edu/cj>. WSU is classified by the Carnegie Foundation as a RU/VH (Research University, Very High research activity) institution and serves more than 24,000 students across 370 academic programs, making it a premier, public, urban research university located in the heart of Detroit where students from all backgrounds are offered a rich, high-quality education. Our deep-rooted commitment to excellence, collaboration, integrity, diversity and inclusion creates exceptional educational opportunities preparing students for success in a diverse, global society. WSU encourages applications from women, people of color and other underrepresented people. WSU is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

To apply, go to: <https://hr.wayne.edu/clientservices/prospective> (posting requisition 2355).

An on-line application is required. Applicants must upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching portfolio, and diversity statement (submitted through the “writing sample” tab) within the online application portal to be considered for the position. Three letters of recommendation should be sent to Dr. Siying Guo, Chair of the Search Committee, Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice, 3261 Faculty Administration Building, Wayne State University, Detroit, MI 48202 or emailed to hp6625@wayne.edu. Review of applications will begin November 25, 2024 and continue until the position is filled. The chair of the search committee will be available at ASC to discuss the position.
